LONDON, Oct. 5.

THEY write from the Hague, that their High Mightineſſes can by no Means obtain the Emperor's Admiſſion for their Commiſſaries at the Conferences at Aurick, at which the Miſunderſtandings between the Prince of East Frieſland and the Inhabitants of Embden, are to be adjuſted.

People who expected to be duped by the ſeducing and equivocal Anſwers of the Court of Spain, are not altogether deceived. The Marquis de la Quadra having acted towards their High Mightineſſes in the ſame Manner as the Cardinal de Fleury did in the late War: By means of captivating Promiſes, he prevented the States General from joining with Great-Britain; and now, ſince the Differences between that Power and the Court of Spain are ſeemingly accomodated, their High Mightineſſes ſtill inſiſting upon the promiſed Satisfaction, have been anſwered, that an Equivalent is previouſly required of the States General by the Court of Spain, for an Inſult committed upon a Spaniſh Ship near St. Domingo by ſome Dutch Veſſels. Several Deputies of their High Mightineſſes have ſome Days paſt been in Conference with the Marquis de St. Giles upon this Subject, wherein they ſhew'd a very great Surprize at the Condition inſiſted upon by his Catholick Majeſty, plainly demonſtrating to him, that upon the firſt Complaint of this Inſult the States General had ſent Orders to take the neceſſary Informations, but that the Reports which had been receiv'd in Relation to this Affair had been entirely contradictory to the Complaint in Queſtion, and it likewiſe appeared by the Accounts from all the Dutch Governors in the American Colonies, that the utmoſt Care was taken to avoid giving Occaſion of Offence to all Spaniſh Ships. The Satisfaction demanded by Spain, in reſpect to the above pretended Inſult, is only look'd upon here as an Evaſion, contriv'd to put off the Execution of the Promiſes made by that Court: However, the Regency ſeems reſolv'd not to ſit down contented with this Behaviour; for beſides the Orders lately ſent to M. Vander Meer, the States General intreated the King of Great-Britain to conſent that his Miniſter at Madrid ſhould ſecond their Ambaſſador on this Occaſion, which they the rather hope for, having this Summer enjoined M. Vander Meer to back the Demands of Mr. Keen, and to act in every Thing in Concert with him, in whatever Conteſt related to Navigation and Commerce.

Letters from Conſtantinople bring, that the Marquis de Villeneuve have made freſh Inſtances to the Grand Signior to obtain a ſatisfactory Anſwer to the Propoſitions made by the King his Maſter, for putting an End to the preſent War between the three Empires, his Highneſs, in order to give a diſtinguiſhing Mark of his perfect Conſideration for the King, had aſſembled an extraordinary Divan, the Reſult of which being communicated to that Ambaſſador, was, that the Grand Signior demanded, by way of Preliminary, a Reſtitution of all the Places which had been taken from the Ottoman Empire in the preceding War, and afterwards his Highneſs would with Pleaſure receive any Propoſitions of Peace which his Majeſty ſhould pleaſe to make him

We have Advice from Leghorn, that the Report of Lord Theodore's Arrival in Corſica does not ſeem to be ill-grounded; ſince they have received Letters from that Iſland, which ſay, that Malecontents actually refuſe to deliver up their Arms, unleſs the Conditions of the Accommodation be communicated to them.

We hear from Venice, that two Ambaſſadors from Thamas Kouli Kan are arrived at Conſtantinople; and that according to the Accounts they have from the Turkiſh Miniſtry, their Errand is to conclude a ſolid and laſting Treaty of Alliance between their Maſter and the the Grand Signior. They have already been in Conference with the Kainakan, and have declared, that the King their Maſter deſired that Ruſſia might be included in this Peace.

They write from Madrid, that ſeveral Perſons in that City have been commited to Priſon for ſpreading a falſe Report, that the King of Spain intended to abdicate the Crown once more.

Madrid, Sept. 16. Moſt of the principal Merchants of this City have greatly contributed to advance Preliminaries of Accommodation between this Court and that of Great-Britain They write from Barcelona, Carthagene and Almeira, that the Britiſh Ships now come to trade at thoſe Ports as heretofore.
